

MEET THE AUTHOR

MATT SINGER

We're hosting Webby Award-winning writer, film critic, and podcaster Matt Singer for a virtual Zoom conversation about his new book. Singer has written the first dual biography of the two men who defied conventional wisdom and altered the course of movies, television, and pop culture: Siskel & Ebert. He shares the fascinating account of how a pair of hyper-competitive journalists emerged as the most famous and influential film critics in history.
