

Uneven Ground

Traditional Celtic Band

Hailing from the West Coast of Michigan since 2013, the four-piece traditional Celtic Uneven Ground band blends vocals with instrumentals to bring their listeners on a unique musical journey. Grounded in the roots of traditional Irish music, Uneven Ground present a blend of songs molded from hundreds of pub tunes from around the Celtic region. By teaching the history of their music, mixed with their nonsensical humor, each performance offers the listener an escape from their busy lives.

Figuratively named after the Irish slip jig 'On the Rocky Road to Dublin,' formed from respect and love of Celtic music and heritage, the group has become one of the most exciting traditional/folk Celtic bands to emerge on the scene today - a perfect fit for folk festival, parties, fundraising events, community concerts, and public library concerts. The group tailors their presentations of audiences of all ages and all venues.

Uneven Ground has given workshops in Irish –style music to Mona Shores Middle School, Mona Shores High School, Grand Haven Area High School, and North Muskegon Public School fiddle groups. The band as presented fundraising concerts for both school systems.

UG has performed at the Kalamazoo Irish Festival, Sparta Celtic Festival, and Michigan Irish Music Festival. The band performs yearly at several libraries around West Michigan.
