

Bad Axe Area District Library – Surplus Furniture (needs to be picked up approx. mid-January)

		Small Stools (20" high)	2
		Large Stools (24" high)	8
		Side Table	1
		Spinning Shelf for paperbacks	2

		Wooden Chairs *Note: They are not all exactly the same. There are a bunch like this, and a bunch that are almost the same as this. They are in good shape and sturdy.	20
		Wood Study Table (approx. 9 ft. long) *Note: the table feet are a little finicky and fall off when the table is moved.	2
		Barstools *Note: the nailhead trim is coming off.	3
		Child-Size Wooden Chairs	6

	Child-Height Wood Table 1 *Includes a removable leaf *Note: the finish has some rough spots
	Child-Size Computer Desk and Stool 1
	Display Bookshelf Units 3 *Note: These are very heavy
	Wingback Chair 1 *Note: there is a hole in the upholstery and it's seen better days in general

		Mini-Bench / Ottoman	1
		Wooden Park Bench *Note: a couple of the slats on the seat are loose.
		Fancy Chair	1
		Side Table	1
		Faux Leather Sofa *Note: I'm assuming faux leather – I actually have no idea. These have been around the block.	2

	Arm Chair *Note: these are a little rickety and some of the piping is starting to separate from the upholstery.	2
	This guy	1
	Low Spinning Shelf	1
	Arm Chair	1

	Wooden Desk *Note: the drawers are not on slides and you have to throw your whole body weight into pulling out the file drawer. Couple of random holes on the top. Honestly it's not great. Please excuse the untidiness.
	Old-Timey Office Chairs *Note: For antique enthusiasts. These are from Old City Hall about 75 years ago I think. The casters fall off whenever you move them.	2
	Spindly Chairs *Note: these are not enormously sturdy, but are technically in good shape	2
