

SKYWARN[®]

Storm Spotter Training

Skywarn[®] is the National Weather Service's (NWS) severe weather spotting program with trained volunteers nationwide. Spotter information helps NWS provide better forecasts and warnings by conveying significant or severe weather reports such as thunderstorms, hail, tornadoes, heavy snow, and flooding. Are you interesting in becoming a part of the volunteer network?

This training session is for you!

Space is Limited.

Registration is required for this Adult Only Program.

Thursday,
March 14, 2019
at 6 pm
Warren Civic Center
Conference Room

To register, please see the circulation desk or call 586.574.4564.