"Official RDA" Overview

Category: Cataloging

Beginning in 2017, updates to and work on what is now "Original RDA" was halted for the 3R project: RDA Toolkit Restructure and Redesign. The result is now available for review as "Official RDA".

It is based on the IFLA-LRM (Library Reference Model) and includes many new terms for old concepts such as Aggregates, Application Profiles, Nomens, and Representative Expressions, and new tools such as LC's Metadata Guidance Documentation (MGD). This educational session* will explain the reasoning behind the revisions, what IFLA-LRM is, and introduce many of the new concept terms.

As a result of this program. participants will recognize and understand new concept terms (that is, aggregates, representative expressions, and so forth), define the IFLA-LRM and explain its significance, and recognize an application profile.

A Model for Spanish Language Services

Categories: Advocacy & Professional Development

Learn about how the Fresno County Public Library created a model that works within their current structure providing an opportunity for staff at all levels to learn library jargon together. Understand that having a librarian who speaks, writes, and reads Spanish fluently work alongside library staff who they would typically not interact with has been a part of the work groups success.

The goals of this webinar are:
- To persuade library systems to look at their current model and be intentional about language services practices
- To persuade library systems to think about how they are currently doing translations and what they should plan for in the future

This program is part of PCI's collaborative learning project with California Libraries. (CALL)

How to Get Out of a Rut at Work

Category:
Professional Development

You've been in your job for some time now. Perhaps you've been promoted. Other exciting professional development opportunities have come your way. But recently — not so many. Your daily routine has become drudgery. You watch the clock, looking forward to your lunch break and the end of the working day. You know you're good at your job. You earn the praise of your supervisors. But you're bored and find few challenges to keep the spark you once had for your profession alive. Simply put, you feel stuck. You're in a rut, and you're at a loss as to how to escape it short of finding a new job (and that's often easier said than done).

This webinar is designed to help show you how to escape your rut and resume a productive and engaging work life. By attending it, you'll learn:

- The signs of being in a rut at work
- Strategies designed to spark your creativity in your job
- How to apply what you've done to reinvigorate your daily activities — and to escape your rut.
