

Join us at the Great Lakes Resource Sharing Conference on June 9 and 10, 2016 in Indianapolis, Indiana. Register at <http://glrsc.org/registration> by May 15 to take advantage of the lower registration fee. The $75 registration fee increases to $95 after May 15.

Remember to book your hotel room soon too. The room block at the Sheraton Indianapolis Hotel at Keystone Crossing expires on May 9. Book through <http://glrsc.org/hotel> to get the discounted rate.

Schedule in brief:

Thursday, June 9, 2016

- 12:30 to 3:15 PM—OCLC custom holdings workshop; data blitz with short, practical presentations; Unlocking the Interlibrary Loan Code for the United States
- 3:30 to 4:30 PM—OCLC update
- 5:00 to 6:00 PM—Opening reception
- 5:50 to 7:15 PM—Dine-arounds or dinner on your own
- 7:30 to 8:30 PM—Trivia contest with prizes

Friday, June 10, 2016—9:00 AM to 3:45 PM

- Keynote address
- Concurrent sessions
- Breakfast, lunch, and breaks included

Keynote Address: Heidi Nance, Head of Interlibrary Loan and Document Delivery Services / Information Resources and Scholarly Communications Strategic Projects Librarian, University of Washington Libraries

Concurrent Sessions:

- Getting the GIST of It: Adding Value to Patron-Driven Acquisitions with Interlibrary Loan
- Occam's Reader: Why Do We Wish to Share E-books?
- Workflow Improvements and Staffing Solutions: Managing Patron and Employee Expectations
- And many more!

Conference Rates:

The conference registration fee is $75 ($95 for registration after May 15) and includes the preconference on Thursday, June 9, and all sessions, breakfast, and lunch on Friday, June 10.

Join your resource sharing partners and set sail for the future with us!

For hotel reservations, a full program schedule, and other information, visit the conference website at <http://glrsc.org>.